Four Thousand Weeks

Assuming you live to 80, you'll have lived about four thousand weeks. If you're anything like me and want to make the most of those four thousand or however many thousand weeks we actually get, then look no further than Oliver Burkeman's instant classic here.

I must say, this is a different kind of 'productivity' book if you're into that kind of thing, and it really gives the conventional productivity tips and tricks on their head. The author describes himself as a
